CIRCULAR

Sub:- Records and Documents in Government – Cases before the High Court – production of – Regarding.

The Advocate General, Ernakulam has pointed out that the High Court has been insisting on the production of all material records and documents at the hearing of cases and that very often it so happens that when cases are taken up some of the material documents are seen not available in the case files. All the departments of the Secretariat are, therefore, requested that where they forward Advocate General in connection with Government cases they must also send the relevant records and documents along with the statements of facts. The Advocate General may not be requested to return these records and documents until the case is over, except in exceptional circumstances. The Departments of the Secretariat are also requested to issue suitable instructions in this regard to the departments and offices under their administrative control.
