Read:- G.O.(MS) 477/61/Fin. dated 23-11-1961.

O R D E R

It has been ordered in the G.O. read above that it deputation for training involves a change of station and if, at the end of training, without allowing the officer to rejoin the post from which he is deputed, he is given a regular posting at a different station, he will be allowed actual journey time for his journey back to the station from which he was sent on training and regular joining time admissible under the rules from his old station to the new station to which he is posted.

A question has been raised as to whether an officer, whose deputation for training involves no change of station, but who is given posting to a different station on termination of the period of training is entitled to joining time. The Government order that, in the case of officers whose deputation for training does not involve change of station, they may be allowed regular joining time as on transfer if they are posted to station different from the one where they have undergone the training.

By order of the Governor,

K.V. THOMAS
Assistant Secretary.
