

Abstract.

Public Services- Temporary staff - continuance of - Delay in issue of sanction- avoiding of - instructions issued.

Public (Services C) department.

G,O, MS.No. 651

Dated 6-7-'59.

ORDER

Government have noticed an instance where a low paid Government employee -a watcher- was not given his pay more than 8 months for want of sanction for the continuance of his post in 1958-59. The sanction was delayed because the Head of the department concerned did not furnish correct information regarding the the previous sanction for the creation of the post. On a reference made on this point the Head of the department referred the matter to the sub office when actually the required information was available in his office itself. The real position was that there was neither provision for the post in the budget nor previous Government Sanction for the creation of it. The Head of the department could have furnished this information straight away and asked for sanction for the creation of a new post. This was not done and as result of protracted correspondence the matter was delayed for over 8 months.

2. The case cited above is an illustration of the very unsatisfactory manner in which routine administration is carried on in some of the departments. The negligence on the part of the Head of the department led to avoidable inconvenience to the poor subordinate who was made to suffer for a very long time, since his pay and allowances could not be drawn and disbursed. The Government wish to express their extreme displeasure at such remissness on the part of Heads of departments and to warn them that similar negligence on the part of any officer in future will be severely dealt with.
