Sub:- Forests – formation of nurseries – Instructions regarding.

It is seen that in a standard bed, the quantity of teak seeds sown is different from Division to Division. It is also seen that due to excess quantity of seeds sown, the seedlings become very thin and consequently the yield of proper size seedlings from a bed is low. To avoid such a stage of affairs, it is hereby ordered that only 12 lbs. of good Teak seeds need be sown in a standard 40' x 4' bed.
